

Advanced Myofascial Techniques and Functional Movement Assessments –
Neck, Shoulder, Low Back, Pelvis and Legs with Magnus Eklund BCSI, LMT 144
LIVE WEBINAR on ZOOM.us – August 22-23 , 2020, 9AM-6PM – 16 CE hours

Before After

Description: This course presents the fundamental concepts and strategies of Synergetic™ Myofascial Therapy, which is inspired by the work of Dr. Ida P. Rolf, PNF and active resisted stretching techniques, joint ROM & functional movements.

- Learn how to combine hands – on myofascial techniques with active movements from the client to create space and structural balance in the body.
- Learn postural and movement assessments to better understand how to improve structure through specific applications of myofascial techniques. Learning these skills will help you integrate fascial techniques into a session for your clients.
- Learn how to prepare the body for safe structural work in deeper muscles and fascia. A lesson manual will be provided. SMT DVDs available for purchase.

“It’s the fascia that envelops and crosses joints. Joints become the red flags; they tell you if and how something is wrong. You have to look for relationship, not only of joints, but within all of the mesodermal tissue. This will give you a more inclusive picture of what is going on in a body than if you look only at the muscles.” –Dr. Ida P. Rolf

“Magnus’s instructional style leads to that crystal-clear moment we all hope for when investing in a hands-on massage CE seminar; that moment of revelation when one realizes this work just makes sense. Powerful and effective, this is something I can do to make a genuine difference in the well-being of my clients. Magnus’s seven-part online video series is an invaluable learning tool to use as a complement to his CE seminars.” Melissa K. Benson, LMT – LA 3406
